DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 10, 13, and 15-18 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 11 October 2005.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-9, 11 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Weldon et al, US006062959A. Please refer to figure 8 and column 9, lines 31 through column 10, lines 41, and column 4, lines 32 through column 5, lines 23.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 12 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Weldon et al, '959 in view of Chang et al, US005980368A . '959 does not explicitly disclose a feed back circuit that in response to a change in a removal profile induces a change in the topography of the non-planar surface to yield a pre-determined removal profile. It is the examiner's position that such a feed back circuit must be inherent to the system, to modify the fluid bearing in response to surface conditions of the workpiece during polishing. If applicant argues that such is not inherent to the system taught by '959, then it is the examiner's position that '368, figure 6 and its description, teaches providing a system using a fluid bearing to support an abrasive pad with a feed back circuit. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill to have provided '959 with the feed back circuit taught by '368, figure 6, to better control the surface polishing of the workpiece within desired parameters.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Other similar devices are cited of interest.
